The Chef of South Polar

Directed by Shuichi Okita

Plot Summary

In 1997, an 8 men research team arrived at Dome Fuji Station in Antarctica. The station is 1,000km away from the Antarctic coast. No animals, birds, fish or even viruses can live there. Mr. Nishimura is the chef of the team. He misses his family in Japan, but to keep the team members happy, he tries to make delicious meals every day. The Captain of the team is addicted to ramen (noodles in soup), the doctor tries to train to participate in a triathlon when he returns to Japan, and the young support member likes a telephone operator whom he has never seen before. Various unique personalities have to live together for one and a half years. Their lives become a series of interesting events...
