

Dr. Rob Davies, Minister of Trade and Industry of South Africa, holds breakfast meeting with Japanese business leaders

August 24, 2017

On August 24, Honorable Dr. Rob Davies, Minister of Trade and Industry of South Africa, who delivered the keynote speech at the Side Event of TICAD Ministerial Meeting, ‘the Dialogue with Private Sector from Japan and Africa’, held a breakfast meeting with several directors of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce and Industries in South Africa (CCIJ) in Mozambique.

CCIJ asked the Minister to further improve the business environment in South Africa, where as many as 140 Japanese companies, the largest number among African countries, have invested and operated, by pointing out that the country functions as a gateway for foreign investors to enter into the African continent. Confirming the importance of the investment made by Japanese companies in South Africa, the Honorable Minister responded positively to make efforts toward the improvement of the business environment. The meeting was held in a cordial atmosphere.
